Installing & caring for your Eden shower unit

Measuring your showering area

Before selecting the perfect product for your application, it is important to have an accurate measurement of your showering area. Please use the area below to sketch your bathroom.

Selecting the right shower for you

- All enclosure products are suitable for right and left hand installations, however some shower trays are not – please check suitability when ordering.
- All product heights are measured from tray top.
- A suitably qualified installer should fit all products.
- Shower trays must be fitted level.
- Please use product code when ordering to ensure a speedy and efficient dispatch of your new Eden enclosure.

Caring for your Eden shower

- All products should be cleaned using warm water & a mild detergent.
Use of aggressive bleaching agents can lead to discolouration of components.

Standards & quality

- All glass used in Eden shower enclosures conform to BS6206 Class A.
- All product dimensions are in millimetres unless otherwise stated.

Eden & the ongoing evolution of shower design

- Eden Bathrooms has an ongoing research and development policy and therefore reserve the right to modify product specifications and prices without notification.
